

Congratulations to the winners of the 2021 SUMMER MICRO-GRANTS!

Trish Donald

Trish is an author/illustrator living in Armidale. As a creative practitioner, Trish is always looking for ways to connect with people in order to inspire her work and empower others through creative practices.

Fiona McDonald

Fiona is an internationally recognised toy maker, visual artist, author and illustrator. She has written and illustrated works of fiction and non-fiction for all ages and is also the co-director of a small, independent publishing house.

James O'Hanlon

James holds a PhD in Biology. His science writing has been published in multiple journals, including Australian Geographic. James draws from his background to create art and stories that explore nature.

The 2021 Summer micro-grants are in support of local writers to create new, original short works for adult audiences in any genre.

Work is to be completed by 1 April 2021.

To find out more, visit: NEWC.ORG.AU

